Southern Pacific Commences Operation on Lines in Berkeley

ABOUT $3,000,000 TO BE SPENT, SAYS OFFICIAL

Construction Forces Start at Three Points and More Follow

BERKELEY, April 8.—The Southern Pacific Railway this morning began active construction of its proposed extensive loop systems of electric railways north and south through Berkeley in four parallel subdivisions, which, when completed, according to General Manager W. B. Scott, will cost $3,000,000 and afford Berkeley one of the most modern and finest transportation systems in the world.

The work was inaugurated at three separate points, at California and Rose, at Vine and Shattuck and at Ninth and Parker streets, under the general supervision of E. G. Miller, assistant engineer of construction at the Oakland Mole.

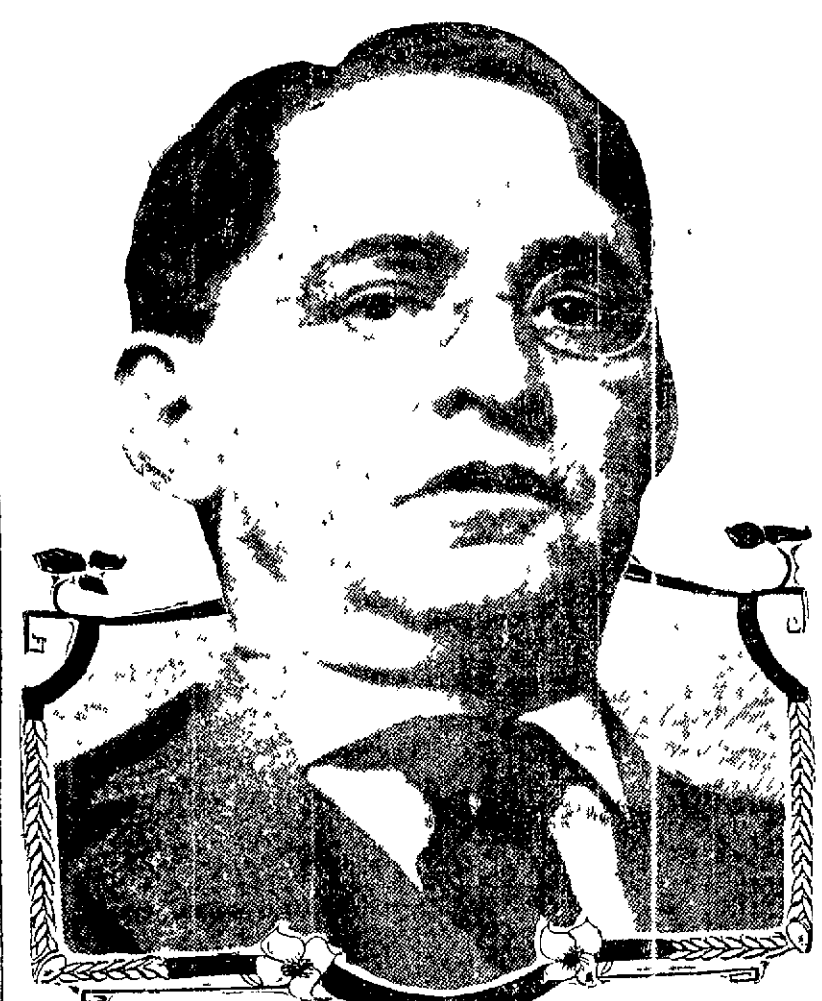

The corporation has been assembling its construction forces for the past week for the work and in the three gangs that started this morning there are ninety-two men. Another gang will be started on the Elsworth street line in a day or so, and the force increased as rapidly as possible. Within two weeks it is probable there will be from 300 to 400 men engaged.

Miller says work will be hurried with every resource of the corporation. The plans of the company, according to the maps and other specifications on file with town Engineer Wilbur T. McChute call for a system of roads that will give it access to every part of Berkeley except the extreme northern region. The motive power will be electricity generated at the big station now being erected on the tidal canal in Fruitvale. The cars are to be of new and most modern type and construction and will enable the operation of the new line to be direct to San Francisco.

The Proposed Roads

There will be four parallel lines of road on Ninth, on California, on Shattuck avenue and on Elsworth street. The line on Ninth street will leave the present steam road near Gato station and run over a private right of way to Polk street where a slight detour to the west will be made and thence straight north on Ninth street to the boundary of the city of Berkeley. The route follows Jackson street in Ocean View for some distance and then crosses to the east onto Main street thence direct across the new town and into the annexed portion of Berkeley on the north. The California street line will leave the present steam road just east of the crossing of the Santa Fe tracks and run clear north five miles to the north end of town. The Elsworth street line will be extended from Rose street northwest over private right of way through what is

William F. Wells Named Judge for Alameda County

WILLIAM WELLS, Appointed Superior Judge of Alameda County by Governor Gillett Today

SACRAMENTO, April 8.—Gov. Gillett today announced the appointment of former Judge William F. Wells of Contra Costa County as the new Superior Judge for Alameda county, under the provision of the Mott bill, creating this position, which he signed last Tuesday. The appointment is effective at once, and the credentials have been forwarded to Oakland.

The appointment of Judge Wells is extremely gratifying to his many friends in this State and especially in Oakland where he has been a resident and a practitioner of law since he retired from the bench in Contra Costa county.

The fact that Judge Wells would be appointed has been pretty well assumed since it became known that Governor Gillett would affirm his signature to the law creating a new judiciary in this county.

In fact there were but few, if any, candidates for the position. It was well understood that Alameda county, no Oakland would be satisfied with Judge Wells and the lawyers who had known him during his frequent incumbency of the bench here were all his friends.

It was before Judge Wells that Mrs. Isabella T. Martin was tried and convicted of the crime of attempting a kidnapping in Oakland in a business way and has been a lifelong Republican always ready to act for the interests of his party. He was formerly connected with the news of the actual appointment became known in Oakland.

PLUMBER RUNS AMUCK FROM FANCIED GRIEVANCE

Kills His Oldest Friend, Shooting Her Through the Heart. Starts Panic

URORA, Ill., April 8.—John Anderson, a plumber whose mind had become affected, today armed himself with two pistols, a shotgun and three bombs which he fastened to his person by means of a harness. He started out to kill the inhabitants of a city block in which he said malicious gossip concerning himself had been circulated. He killed one woman, narrowly missed slaying her husband, wounded another woman and then committed suicide.

MRS. JOHN McVICKER was shot through the heart as she ran toward the room where her children were playing.

JOHN ANDERSON committed suicide by blowing off his head with his shotgun.

MRS. JOHN BELFORD, flesh wound, and arm broken from pistol bullets.

JOHN McVICKER, husband of one of the victims, scalp grazed by bullet.

Anderson, a violent man and his name was known to all who knew him. He had been a member of the first bullet squad in the city. He had been a member of the first bullet squad in the city. He had been a member of the first bullet squad in the city.

With a pistol in each hand Anderson immediately began shooting. The first bullet struck Mrs. McVick. Mrs. McVick was shot through the heart. She died instantly. Her husband, John, was shot in the arm and leg. He was wounded but not seriously.

Anderson then turned to Mrs. Belford. She was shot in the arm and leg. She was wounded but not seriously.

LAUGH TURNED ON PATRICK CONWAY

Plays Choicest Pieces, But the Packed House of Deaf
Mutes Stir Not

A good story is going the rounds about Patrick Conway, who, with his band, will begin an extended engagement at 10th St. "The park beautiful" next Sunday afternoon. One afternoon recently, Conway's band assembled at the auditorium at Willow Grove, Philadelphia, to give their usual afternoon performance. Conway came on the stage with his characteristic smiling face.

The auditorium was filled to its utmost capacity, but instead of the usual applause, Conway was met with the most rigid reception by the large audience.

Plays Hungarian Rhapsody

A bit nettled at his reception, Conway turned to his men, smiled, and said, "Never mind, boys, they may be a bit chilly now, but we'll get them all right and rapping with his baton for attention, the band swung into the strains of Liszt's famous second Hungarian rhapsody, one of the most sensational numbers in the repertoire of the band, and one that never fails to create a furore. All through the piece Conway was smiling to himself and thinking how different things would be at the conclusion of this one of his pet numbers. At the conclusion of the piece Conway stepped down from his directing stand and for a moment stood listening for the usual burst of applause. But his expectations were destined to disappointment, as there was not a sound in the great building, other than the whispered whisperings of his own musicians.

List of Stirring Aids

By this time Conway was doing some mental stunts that finally resulted in his turning to his men and saying, "Try 'em again, boys," and the band, after playing measures of the patrol "In Dixie Land," a number that never misses fire. But when the Swanee River was followed by Dixie and this in turn by Columbia and finally this by the Star Spangled Banner, a wealthy silence followed that could have been cut with a knife. Instead of the expected cheering, Conway began to wonder if he was crazy or having a bad dream.

The coldest kind of a cold prostration breaking out on his forehead, Conway, with a snap like the closing of a banker's time lock safe, passed the word to play the Strauss Pizzicato. "If that doesn't get them, they must be stone deaf and dumb," said Conway.

Whole Audience Deaf

But the conclusion of this popular number didn't seem to break the hoodoo and speechless and all but in tears, the leader rushed from the stage and almost fell over the manager of the place. He hastened to say that owing to the unfinished condition of the building the national convention of deaf mutes scheduled for the unfinished hall had been transferred to the auditorium and that his audience was composed entirely of deaf mutes who couldn't hear a cannon fired off with three inches of either ear.

After the laugh had subsided Conway conceded that it was "on him," and it was, judging by the heartiness with which a number of friends, together with members of the band, that night sang the refrain, "for he's a jolly good fellow."

YOUNG SHANNON IS A FUGITIVE

Son of Prominent Physician
Accused of Forging
Signature

Guy Shannon, twenty years old, a son of Dr. J. M. Shannon, one of the oldest and best known medical men in Oakland, is a fugitive from justice, on the charge of having forged and cashed a number of checks bearing his father's signature. The discovery of the boy's wrongdoings was made two weeks ago, and called to the attention of the father by Paying Teller Bartensberg of the Central Bank. Young Shannon disappeared in the meantime, and although every effort has been made to locate him no trace has been found by the police.

As near as can be learned, the young man has been leading a fast life, making a practice of hanging around pool rooms and billiard halls. More than a dozen spurious checks have been located.

In speaking of the matter today, Dr. Shannon said that he had been bearing the burden of the boy's wrongdoings for a long time. He said he had no idea, however, that the lad would resort to crime, and explained it on the grounds that the young man's persistence in seeking bad company had led to his gambling and downfall. The father has always provided well for the boy and given him money and a good home.

SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR FOR McELROY ESTATE

In accordance with the petition filed by Mrs. Anna E. McElroy, late of the City Attorney, John Edmond McElroy, which named her as sole executor of the deceased's estate, in the probate department of the Superior Court, for the appointment of James J. McElroy, her brother-in-law, as special administrator of the estate, Judge Ogden issued the promissory notes given, about her year ago, at $1400, which the special administrator has furnished, with Katherine H. Hays and P. A. Cox as sureties.

Send Boke on a Mission.

At a meeting of the League of Justice Francis J. Heney made a number of pronouncements as to what he is going to do. But the public are familiar with Mr. Heney's habit of advertising from the house-tops intentions which he never fulfills, so we will let that little matter pass. It is the suggestion of the Arizona apostle of civic righteousness that George H. Boke, professor of jurisprudence at the State University, be made a roving missionary by the League of Justice and be sent east with a rambling commission to direct and correct the administration of justice in all parts of the country which interests us.

Boke is the ridiculous person who wrote an opinion for the graft prosecution overruling the decision of the District Court of Appeal and the Supreme Court in the Schmitz case. In this opinion Boke tried to nullify a statute of the California penal code on the strength of a decision made by the British House of Lords in a civil action in tort. Since that time he has usually been referred to in legal circles as Professor Bloke.

The said Boke is one of the editors of a small weekly or monthly publication printed as an aid to the private prosecutions Rudolph Spreckels and James D. Phelan are conducting in San Francisco. His principal task is to furnish moot law to fit any programme or move Messrs. Heney and Burns and Spreckels may institute; and incidentally to throw mud at the higher courts. In other words, Boke is the Chief Justice of the Spreckels court of last resort, although he signs himself "professor of jurisprudence, University of California." It is under that title that he insults the highest judiciary in the State and by suggestion, inference and reiterated intimidation endeavors to inculcate the belief that the Supreme Court is corrupt.

We are quite willing that the aforesaid Boke should start out as a peripatetic missionary for the graft prosecution, and stay away indefinitely—the longer the better—but as a preliminary the State University should be circumscribed of him. The university would be the gainer by a permanent decree of divorce from Boke in any event. His ignorance of elementary principles of law makes him a laughing stock to the legal fraternity and an absurdity as a teacher. His attacks on the learning and integrity of the ablest and highest judges in the State are scandalous and a gross breach of propriety. It is bad enough for an instructor in the State's chief educational institution to teach fundamental error, but for him to add ignorance and fatuity to gratuitous insult to the Supreme Bench he becomes a menace as well as a nuisance. Thus his flagrant attempts to meddle with judicial procedure and to influence the course of justice stamp him as a man wholly destitute of a proper sense of propriety or appreciation of the obligations resting upon a man in his position. Moreover, his persistent attempts to butt into the graft trials in San Francisco show him to be an impertinent meddler.

Therefore we cordially second the motion to export the Boke person. Good-bye and good riddance, say we. He can well be spared from the university and from California. In his case absence will make the hearts out here grow fonder. The longer he stays away the better he will be liked. His virtues are increased by the enchantment of distance. If he will go far away enough and stay away long enough California lawyers may in time believe he really knows some law, and that's saying a good deal. Let him be bundled off without delay.

Campaign of Naval Education.

Admiral Robley D. Evans' campaign of popular education for a bigger navy, more dockyards and better protection of the Pacific seaboard from attack by any foreign foe should be productive of good results. The Admiral is a firm believer in the value of a strong navy as an instrument of peace and he shares the views of the British Admiral, Lord Charles Beresford, that the money spent in maintaining a strong navy is an economical form of insurance on the mercantile marine of the country and its foreign commerce.

But the inland territory of the United States is so extensive that a vast majority of its people have little knowledge of seaboard or maritime interests. Indeed, there are millions of people in the United States who have not seen salt water or heard the never ceasing roar of the breaking waves of the oceans flanking it as they lash their shores. A somewhat humorous illustration of the ignorance of the sea which prevails in the interior States was furnished many years ago in San Francisco bay when a Kansas editor who had migrated to this State and whose eyes had rested on the leaving ocean for the first time in his life when he gazed at it from the old Cliff House, accepted an invitation from the commodore of the San Francisco Yacht Club to join in a cruise on the bay as his guest. The westerly wind was blowing strongly through the Golden Gate and when the yacht's bow dove into the choppy seas in the channel, and sent the spray flying all over the craft, the Kansan exclaimed in alarm: "Commodore, the water is running over the fence and will swamp us."

The average inhabitant of an inland State has no conception of the sea and rarely gives it a thought. On the whole such people have little acquaintance with the use and purpose of a navy as a defensive force. They have correspondingly little interest in the development of a navy. A campaign of naval education such as Admiral Evans is conducting is necessary among this class of citizens to arouse their interest in the first line of the nation's defense against foreign invasion.

Even in the seaboard States on this side of the continent there is need of arousing a stronger public sentiment than exists for a stronger navy, so that the Pacific shores shall be as well protected and as efficiently patrolled as the Atlantic seaboard is and that the coast line shall also be equally well equipped with dockyards as is the Atlantic seaboard, where the largest battleships may be kept properly conditioned for war. Admiral Evans has undertaken this great missionary work and no man in the country is more capable of doing it successfully.

Somebody is going to get badly hurt in the big May wheat gamble which is in progress in "The Pit" in Chicago. No corner in breadstuffs ever formed permanently succeeded, except the one organized by Joseph during the seven years of plenty in Egypt. However, that corner was not created for personal gain, but for the benevolent purpose of carrying the nation safely through the seven years of famine which followed.

The heroism of the Canadian Indian woman who cut a strip of flesh from her own body to use as bait to catch fish to save her children and self from starvation, after all other sources of food supply had been exhausted, was truly Spartan. It was a marvelous exhibition of the strength of the mother love for her offspring.

Nearly one-half of the $210,000 needed by the Young Men's Christian Association to erect its building has already been subscribed and the fund is growing apace. Keep the good work going.

ROOSEVELT ARRIVES AT GIBRALTAR

—MINNEAPOLIS JOURNAL.

The Administration's Present Programme.

The plan of the administration to repave the main thoroughfares in the southern part of the city and some of the cross town streets which are carrying traffic too heavy for macadam to survive, is unfolded in the resolution which Councilman Ellsworth has introduced in response to the suggestions made in Mayor Mott's inaugural message. It is that a proposition to create a $200,000 special street fund shall be incorporated in the bonding measure which is expected to be ready for submission to a popular vote on or before May 1st. Expedition in the carrying of the bonding measure is essential, for it will embody several public improvements which are urgently needed, of which the immediate reconstruction of the streets that have been wrecked by the heavy traffic of the past three years is imperative.

The attitude of the people toward the various bonding propositions that have been suggested in the Mayor's message cannot be doubted. The community is ripe for the carrying out of all these great municipal improvements, and it has long since ceased to be timid about contracting a public debt. The ocular proofs of the value of such a policy have been multiplied to its entire satisfaction during the past four years of administrative progressiveness. On the subject of immediately providing the thoroughfares carrying the heaviest traffic with durable pavements of the highest standard in the interests of trade and commerce, public sentiment is practically unanimous and the vote recorded in favor of the proposed special street fund will prove it beyond question.

An International Outcast.

Ex-Dictator Castro of Venezuela is today practically a man without a country, and so far as the shores of the Caribbean sea and the West Indian waters are concerned, an international outcast. When about to sail from Bordeaux, he indiscreetly bragged that he would recover the dictatorship of Venezuela, even if he had to start a revolution to do it, and it leaked out that he had secretly purchased a stock of arms and ammunition in France for the purpose. The French government doubtless took cognizance of Castro's movements and boast for the French Steamship Company, a government subsidized mail carrying corporation, refused to book him to La Guayra, but agreed to land him and his suite at Port of Spain, Trinidad.

After Castro's departure from France, the American government requested the British government to deny him a landing on Trinidad soil. The request was promptly granted and the order of exclusion was communicated by wireless to the French liner. France notified the Venezuelan government that no offense would be taken if Castro was arrested on board the French liner in Venezuelan waters which would otherwise be construed as an insult to the French flag. This virtually closed every West Indian port against the outlawed Venezuelan except Port de France, Martinique, where he was finally put ashore. In all probability the French government will order him off Martinique.

The situation which Castro has created for himself is unique. None of the great powers will allow him an asylum on any territory under its sovereignty adjacent to Venezuela which he could use as a base of revolutionary operations against the Venezuelan government which threw him out of the dictatorship and made peace with the nations whose enmity his arbitrary policy had incurred. His only alternative seems to be to return to Europe and there spend the remainder of his days in involuntary exile.

The sharp contrast in the matter of weather which exists between California and the States lying east of the Rocky Mountains is particularly marked these early April days. While this State is basking in bright warm sunshine, and meadows and hillsides are brilliant with the golden poppy and other wild flowers, tornadoes are sweeping over the States of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi, wrecking churches, schools, factories and other buildings, destroying much other valuable property and killing many unfortunate people.

promise that the married men of the future will live better. Discussing the divorce question the other day, he told us that those who perceived only evil in it reminded him, in their illogical and confused viewpoint, of a little boy with whom he once took a stroll.
As they strolled, they passed the young girls of a neighboring boarding school out on their daily walk.
The girls moved in military formation, two by two. In front were the youngest, in skirts to their knees.
Next came the older ones, in the order of their ages, their skirts lengthening with their years. And in the rear came the oldest of all, the young ladies, whose skirts hid even their boots. The little boy looked at the girls. Then he frowned and said:
"Why is it that their legs grow shorter as they grow bigger?"

Two methods for taxing billboards and other outdoor advertising are before the Massachusetts Legislature. One plan provides for an excise tax of ten cents a square foot on all outdoor advertisements displayed for more than seven consecutive days, when the advertisements do not pertain to the place or property upon which they are located.
The tax would be paid to the state and the highway commission would grant licenses for billboards, etc. The other plan proposes to tax billboards and the like as real estate, basing the tax on the advertising value of the boards. The tax would be determined by local special commissions, which also would have authority to regulate and control the display of any or all outdoor advertising as public safety, morals or decent appearance may require.

LOS GATOS IS TO HAVE BIG TIME

Exhibit of Cut Flowers and Baby Show For Their May Day

LOS GATOS, April 8.—As the day for Los Gatos' great Floral Carnival and Feast of Lanterns approaches, prospects for the grandest festa ever held within the borders of Santa Clara county grow brighter. When the idea of holding the carnival was first broached at a meeting of the Los Gatos Board of Trade back in January, the suggestion was merely for the holding of a local celebration. From the first such intense interest was manifested in other sections that it was decided finally to make it a county affair and to conduct it on such a splendid scale that the Los Gatos May Day Floral Carnival will hereafter be an annual event rivaling in grandeur the spring and fall fiestas of Southern California.

Much of the success that has attended the making of preliminary arrangements has been due to the energetic work of the executive committee, appointed by the Board of Trade. The efficiency of the committee has been enhanced to a great extent by the appointment of R. P. Donlan as director-general.

Mr. Donlan, who has had much experience with fairs and entertainments, has been largely responsible for many of the suggestions that have developed into features of the program. Other active members of the committee are T. E. John, S. D. Balch, J. A. Case and R. A. Crosby, who are among the most influential and progressive of Los Gatos' citizens.

Cut Flower Exhibit

Pronounced interest has been shown throughout the county in the cut flower exhibit, which is to be held at 9 o'clock in the morning and will provide the morning's principal feature, preceding the parade. Adding interest to this exhibit is the news that Superintendent John McLaren of Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, will bring from the park a display of the finest flowers he can produce.

A baby carriage, a richly embroidered baby dress and a dozen cabinet photographs from Wagner's studio are prizes offered in the baby show in addition to the fourteen handsome cups. Of the cups, one is offered by President Taft for the plumpest baby, and another by former President Roosevelt for the handsomest baby.

Director-General Donlan has notified all persons proposing to enter the parade in the morning or the baby parade in the afternoon that decorations of floats, carriages, automobiles, baby carriages and go-carts, must all be in natural flowers. Store front and window displays must also be in natural flowers and shrubbery.

RAISIN CANDY FOR THE SAILORS

Fresno Raisin Committee Arrange to Give Sailors a Real Treat

FRESNO, April 8.—With about $10,000 in cash already on hand and a total of about $20,000 subscribed, the Ways and Means Committee of the Raisin Day Committee has given assurance that there will be ample funds to carry on the campaign.

Letters were received yesterday from the Wells Fargo offices in San Francisco stating that these offices would place raisin stickers on all parcels going out. Five thousand stickers were sent to each office.

Five-pound boxes of raisins were sent out yesterday to President Taft, Vice-President Sherman, Speaker Cannon, Senator Flint and Perkins and Congressman Needham for their use as a treat.

A proposition has just been set on foot to furnish every sailor in the United States navy with raisin candy. This idea was suggested when it was learned that medical authorities had decided that candy should be served the sailor as an antidote for many diseases so prevalent among this class of people. The Raisin Day Committee felt that if the sailors were to have candy they might as well have raisin candy. The sending of raisins to the sailors will be gratis, the idea being to introduce raisins in the United States navy as a food and also as an antidote.

Raisins For All

Small packages of raisins are being prepared to be sent to all the railroads throughout the country to be sold by the newsboys. In this way it is expected that thousands will be enabled to eat raisins on that day who otherwise would have no opportunity. The results of the campaign are already being felt in larger orders which are being received from business houses throughout the country, asking for prices on this product that they may have a supply on hand for April 30. Incidental to this comes numerous demands for advertising literature for raisin day.

E. W. Clapp, general agent of the Southern Pacific for Nevada, has wired Fred Sherry in this city to make special raisin displays.

TAXICAB COMPANY IN NEW YORK RAISE THEIR PRICES

NEW YORK, April 8.—New Yorkers, who already are paying more for their hire than any other city in the world, will have something like $250,000 a year added to their taxicab bill, beginning today. The New York Taxicab Company, which owns and operates about half of the 1,000 taxicabs in the city today, has just voted an increase from thirty cents to fifty cents as an initial charge with a 10-cent rate for each hour as the waiting charge. Twenty cents is to be charged for each piece of baggage. The direct cause of the increase in rates is said to be the poor returns from the "short haul" business, to which the company looked for profit. It is expected that the smaller taxicab companies will probably follow the lead of the larger concern.

"BULL PUP" WAS CAUSE OF UNDOING

Clever Swindler Bought It With Bad Check and Spoiled a Fortune

NEW YORK, April 8.—A young man who said he was Hamilton E. Crampton, 23 years old, a clerk, but who the police say is Carl E. Day, alias Richard N. Stevens, once an inmate of the Elmira, N. Y., reformatory, is held by the police today after having been arrested on West Fifty-sixth street last night at the home of a young woman, several hundred dollars of property were taken from her. "Beauty," a fifty-dollar bull pup, was taken into custody with the young man. The youth went to a call; the bull pup was tied to a desk at headquarters.

It is alleged by the police that Day wrote many letters from Chicago to New York merchants, giving 137 Michigan avenue as his address and saying that he was an agent for a publishing firm and was about to visit New York to purchase $1500 worth of books. When he arrived here, it is said, he deposited a check on a Chicago bank for $497 and then launched on a series of mysterious operations. He acquired offices in two different buildings and scattered checks broadcast. Each of the checks in turn was turned down by the Plaza Bank with the endorsement "drawn against an uncollected account."

Adding further complications to his enterprise, the young man took rooms at several hotels simultaneously, registering under a different name at each.

Now comes the bull pup that was indirectly responsible for his downfall. On April 5, when having his boots blacked at a stand, he took a fancy to the bull pup's dog and bought the animal. But instead of taking the dog away with him he got a boy to deliver "Beauty" to the young woman at whose house he was arrested. When the blacked couldn't find the check cashed, he notified the police, and through the boy who had delivered the dog the detectives traced Day. As the youth was placed under arrest, he said:

"It's lucky for you that you didn't time today."

SIXTY SERGEANTS FOR U. S. ARMY

These Men Are to Act as Instructors in New Militia Forces

WASHINGTON, April 8.—In order to provide the organized militia of each State and Territory with a non-commissioned officer of the regular army for instruction purposes, President Taft has authorized an increase of the non-commissioned staff of the army by sixty sergeants.

They will be distributed, one sergeant to each company of the first, second, third, fourth and fifth regiments of the United States Infantry, and then detailed to the organized militia for service. One sergeant will be detailed to each State or Territory having one full regiment, and for each thousand additional strength a State or Territory will be allotted an additional sergeant.

This will give the State of New York fourteen non-commissioned officers for instruction purposes and the State of Pennsylvania nine.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY WILL BECOME AN ELK

There will be a large number of candidates for membership initiated in Oakland Lodge of Elks tonight. They are prominent in social and business circles, and among them will be A. E. H. Decker, counsel of the Union Savings Bank, and District Attorney W. H. Donahue and John P. Henshaw, a nephew of W. C. Henshaw and Justice Henshaw of the Supreme Court of the State.

A large number of members of the lodge will attend in honor of this event, and it is understood that the ceremonies, always impressive, will be rendered doubly so on this occasion, under the direction of Exalted Ruler Clarence Reed and other officers.

Instead, he will appear in court some wait a week longer. I'd have been on the high seas with my bride."

Special Low Offer Made by Dr. Don for Month of April Increases Well Known Man's Popularity.

The interest stirred up in Oakland and San Francisco by the phenomenal low offer of $12.50 that the world-wide experts of Dr. Don have made for complete treatment during this month, has seen the means of crowding the offices at 1009 Broadway every day this week. No such liberality has ever been known in medical circles and the reputation for safe dealing, conscientious effort and thorough treatment that Dr. Don has built up here attracts the best people in the state. Just today a patient in Eureka, Cal., writes flatteringly of her condition:

Eureka, Cal., March 31, 1909.
European Medical Experts, Oakland.
Dear Doctor—Since I have taken the last bottle of medicine that you sent me I have gained seven pounds. I feel better and have noticed a change for the better in the nervousness that I had then felt. I eat well and sleep well, although I do not think I am altogether cured. My eyes still trouble me a little. I am glad, however, I have made such an improvement, and you may do as you like about sending further medicine.

MISS JULIA HAGEN,
Humboldt Co., Gen. Del.

OAKLAND WOMAN RELATES WON-DERFUL STORY.

"Could my tongue express all that my heart feels in grateful thankfulness to Dr. Don and his European Experts and Bloodless Surgeons for the priceless gift of my restored health, I would then feel at short of fully expressing what I feel. With these words, Mrs. C. Mattison, who resides at 1920 West street, told of her appreciation of the successful treatment and relief from stomach trouble she received after only one or two treatments by Dr. Don's staff of eminent physicians and bloodless surgeons.

When Mrs. Mattison first came to the office at 1009 Broadway, she said: "I am in a terrible condition, doctor. I have been in pain and torment for months. My case does not respond to the treatment of the doctors I have tried, and their medicine does me no good. Can't you help me?" The European Experts treated her and she returned to her home. Yesterday she returned and showed the doctors what had left her system—a monster tape worm over 100 feet in length.

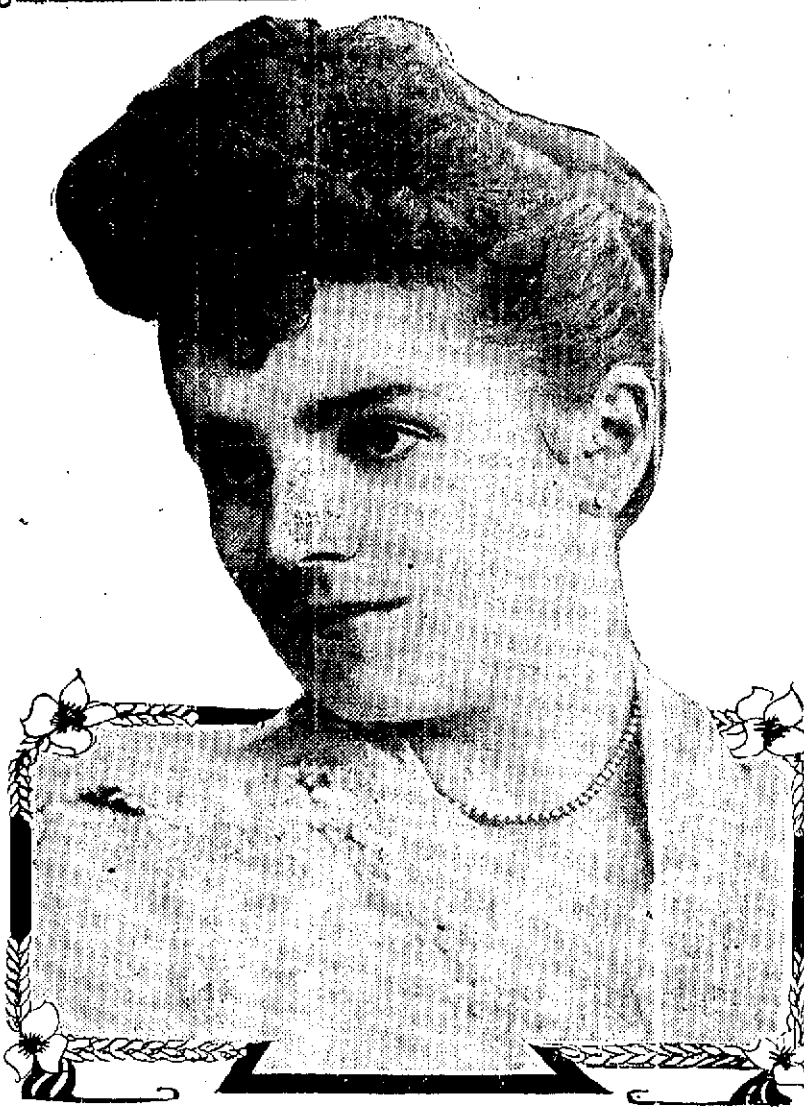

DOCTORS BUSY.
At an early hour this morning the offices were filled to overflowing with people waiting to see Dr. Don's experts. All day long these foreign doctors are kept busy treating the sick and afflicted.

Bad Season for Colds

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J. Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says: "Last winter I was taken with one of the wildest colds I ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in three days was able to talk and in five days was able to breathe and could take food. I now tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and he good it did me."

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—The will of the late J. H. Neff, who died March 25th, was filed for probate yesterday. He left an estate consisting of personal property, valued at about $100,000. The bulk of the estate is left to nephews and nieces, with a few special bequests. To his nephew, Thomas H. Wilhelm of Grass Valley he leaves $10,000, the same amount is left to L. L. Wilhelm, another nephew, also of Grass Valley, and $10,000 is left to a nephew, Henry Disque of San Francisco. A fourth nephew, Louis G. Wilhelm of Auburn, receives $1000. Two nieces, Mrs. Fannie Wissner and Mrs. Annie Holtsifken, both of Burlington, Iowa, receive $3000 each. Bequests ranging from $500 to $250 are left to a multitude of other nephews and nieces and grand-nephews and grand-nieces.

There are bequests of $5000 to the WASHINGTON, Ind. ana, April 8.—Suit has been filed by Miss Laura Britt Clark against Rev. E. C. Davidson. The complaint recites the story of an alleged fake marriage at St. Louis in December last and prays that it be declared void; that Davidson be enjoined from regulating the marriage, and that he be compelled to maintain the woman. Service was obtained and the case will be heard at the next term of the Daviess circuit court. The minister protests his innocence.

Musson's Widows and Orphans' Home, the Young Men's Christian Association of San Francisco and $1000 to Eureka Lodge of Masons. The residue is to be divided proportionately to their bequests among all the legatees. A petition for letters testamentary was filed by Henry Disque and Thomas J. Denials Finally Announces
Her Engagement

NEW YORK, April 8.—In spite of the denials which had been given by both principals to the rumors of their engagement Tuesday, Mrs. Frank M. Avery, the Chicago heiress, yesterday confirmed the previous report that she will be married to James H. Kidder, next June.

Mrs. Avery with her mother, will remain a guest at the Hotel Plaza for several weeks until wedding preparations are completed.

When Mrs. Avery was abroad last November rumors were prevalent of an engagement to Prince Miguel, pretender to the throne of Portugal and son of the royal Austrian house of the Hapsburgs. And the rumors were generally believed in Newport society until Kidder entered the romance.

When the Duchess d'Uzès and the Countess of Warwick visited the United States Mrs. Avery gave receptions in their honor.

Went to Europe
After a season at Newport, crowned with brilliant social successes, Mrs. Avery went to Europe. Her tact, her wit, her beauty, her wealth and her originality made her a pronounced favorite. She was the first American hostess to introduce the cake walk to Europe, and she had much to do with the rage for this peculiarly American dance which swept the Old World for several years. Mrs. Avery catwalked herself, and established the popularity of the dance in England.

In 1903 she was presented at court, and since then she has been a pronounced favorite of both King Edward and Queen Alexandra. She had also been presented to the Pope, to the King and Queen of Italy and the Czar and Czarina of Russia. It was reported at one time that she was engaged to the Duke of Norfolk, but this she denied immediately.

Mrs. Avery also has been reported to be engaged to Lieutenant Dumas of the United States army, and later to the wealthy Howard Willots of New York.

CHAS. OSBEN, MYSTERY MAN, GOES TO NEW YORK

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 8.—Chas. Osben, who has mystified and puzzled the physicians here by his lapse of memory and loss of identity, has been taken to New York today in order that he may see the streets and scenes with which he is supposed to be familiar.

In this way it is hoped that the mist may be cleared from his brain. He is accompanied by his former home in New York, but otherwise he remembers nothing. When not hypnotized his mind is blank. He has been through the experiments made on him to indicate that he came from New York.

BACK UP SALESMAN WHO SIGNS WITH RUBBER STAMP

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 8.—It is declared fitting by the Chili Con Carne Club of Louisville, which boasts the most legible writers in the world, having China, that J. E. Walker of St. Louis, Mo., should have inaugurated a new custom of stamping names on hotel registers in this city. Mr. Walker is a shoe salesman and he startled the clerks at a hotel last night by affixing a well inked rubber stamp imprint upon the register.

PREMATURE BLAST BLOWS MAN TWO HUNDRED FEET

NIMROD, Mont., April 8.—Three workmen were killed in a blast yesterday on the Northern Pacific construction work near here. One of the men was blown a distance of 200 feet into the Wellgate River. His body was recovered. The other two men were buried beneath a large mass of debris and rock and their bodies have not yet been reached.

BIG WALL STREET MEN HIKING OUT FOR SOUTH

NEW YORK, April 8.—John W. Gates, Theodore P. Shonts, Paul Morgan and Edward Hawley are among some of the well known financiers who have started the spring exodus from Wall street to the south. They left for Hot Springs, Virginia, yesterday and did not announce when they would return.

Mr. F. G. Fitts, Oneonta, N. Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefited by taking Fitts' Ointment, and I think it is the best remedy for constipation and liver trouble."

Weds Woman for Her Cooking; Dies Of Indigestion

ATLANTA.—Joshua B. Crawford, 55 years old, one of the wealthiest men in Atlanta, who three weeks ago married Mrs. Belle Salvage of St. Augustine, a widow of about 35, died here today.

Several months ago Mr. Crawford was in St. Augustine and stopped at the boarding house run by Mrs. Salvage. Mrs. Salvage was an excellent cook, and while Mr. Crawford became an admirer of all the dishes she prepared, he fell in love with her biscuits, proposed and was accepted. The marriage proved a big surprise to the people of Atlanta, where Crawford lived for sixty years.

In spite of the excellence of the bride's biscuits, Crawford died from acute indigestion.

Stork Needs a Rest at the Cassidy Home

NEW YORK.—The world's record baby has reached the Cassidy home at 21 Thompson place. Henry Cassidy, the father, is an engineer for the Central Union Gas Company. The new child is the eleventh that has come to the Cassidy domicile, and the family was already so large that Cassidy had to take a two-family house.

Neighbors had become accustomed to children over in the Cassidy home and no one paid, at first, much attention yesterday to the announcement that a new boy was there. The first few who went over to inquire, however, started unusual news and soon every neighbor who could get out hurried to see what strange baby shapion had come among them.

The newborn weighed sixteen pounds on arrival. His arms were developed into championship form and his sturdy legs were those of a child who had learned already to find the coal scuttle. So strong is he that he can sit up without aid, and his general conduct is that of a mature resident in Babylon.

Choir Was Afraid To Sing at Funeral

CHESTER, Pa., April 8.—Believing they would break down if they attempted to sing at the funeral of Mrs. Nella B. MacIntyre, which was held this afternoon, every member of the city was approached, sorrowfully but positively begged to be excused. Mrs. MacIntyre had sung in nearly all of the choirs of the Chester churches.

"We would not attempt to sing at her funeral," the members of the Third Presbyterian Church choir, of which Mrs. MacIntyre was organist, declared.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. A. L. Latham, the pallbearers being members of the choir.

Leaves Dinner to Wed and His Family Disown Him; Eloped With Man's Wife

BURLINGTON, N. J., April 8.—Eloping from a dinner party to wed Miss Irma Leigh, who was the guest of his mother at a brilliant social function, Binny W. Earl, son of Mrs. Frank Earl, and grandson of William G. Binney, a very wealthy resident, won one of Burlington's prettiest maidens for his bride. He went with his girl bride to Georgia to escape Miss Leigh's irate father and brothers.

News of the elopement and wedding became public today and was confirmed by the parents of the young elopers. The mother of young Earl appeared in fine spirits and expressed her delight at the success of what she termed a "dark" of the young couple. Parents of the bride on the other hand are far from pleased. Mrs. Earl's father, Alfred S. Leigh, manager of the Armour Meat Company's South Jersey branch here, is deeply grieved. "Mrs. Leigh is prostrated and in the care of physicians and Clinton Leigh, a brother, said today:

"The worst disgrace that could come to our family is the marriage of my sister to Binney Earl. We wish to have nothing more to do with either of them."

The dinner party at which Miss Irma Leigh, pretty and petite and eighteen years of age, was a guest Saturday night, was given at the Earl home in honor of Mrs. Earl's sister, the Princess de Camporelle, of Rome, Italy, for newly returned Binney Kingsland of Boston, who is now visiting in this country.

The wedding was performed by the Rev. James F. Stoddard of Mount Kithley, rector of the Episcopal church at that place, and it is alleged that the elopers, after leaving Burlington ostensibly to go to the grand opera in Philadelphia, took an automobile from this country.

Camden back to the county seat of Burlington county, thus eluding the girl's relatives.

Rumors of the elopement are said to have reached the ears of the young woman's parents Saturday evening shortly after the young people left this city by train. By the fact that they doubled on the train in an automobile they eluded pursuit, although efforts are said to have been made by Mr. Leigh to head off the wedding.

Young Earl, it is said, telephoned that he and his bride would return to Burlington. It is assured of a welcome from the Leighs.

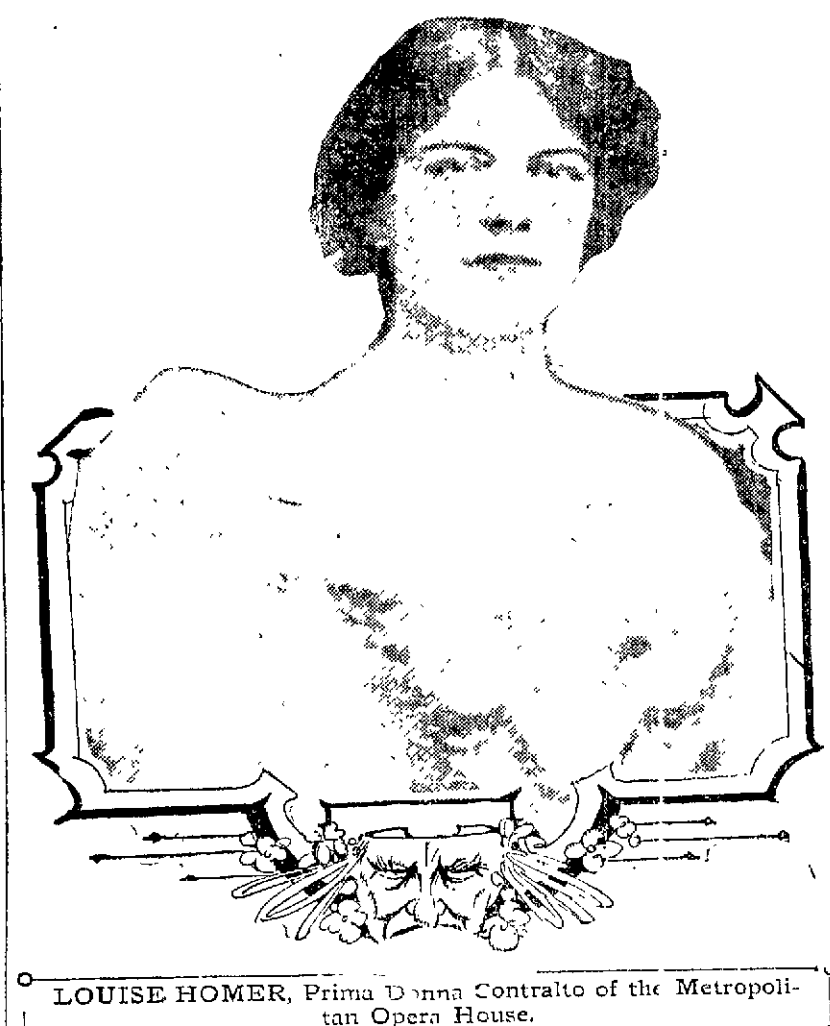

The principal objection of the Leighs to their new son-in-law is said to be his elopement with Mrs. Margaret Cook, wife of William Cook, of this city. The pair were arrested in Baltimore and brought back. Charges, which had been filed against Earl were quashed and both were given their liberty. Earl being sent to a sanatorium. Cook recently obtained a divorce from his wife, who returned to the home of her parents.

My son, and Irma Leigh have been engaged—that is, they have had an understanding for nearly five years that some day they should wed," said Mrs. Earl this afternoon. "I am very sorry that they were not married at home, but one can scarcely blame the young people for thinking it romantic to have an elopement. I came very near eloping myself once, but—but I didn't."

"I have always thought a great deal of Irma Leigh. She is a dear girl, and I am sure she and my son are very fond of each other. They have been close friends since the Leighs lived in the house adjoining and the acquaintance has continued up to the present day."

"It is preposterous for the Leighs to appear angry over the wedding. Miss Leigh's brother, Doctor Leigh, came to see me this morning and appeared very indignant. Several of my friends had a good laugh this morning over the declaration that the Leighs could object to my son as a husband for their daughter."

HER TWINS REPLY TO MME. FREMSTADT'S REMARK THAT SINGERS SHOULD NOT HAVE CHILDREN

LOUISE HOMER, Prima Donna Contralto of the Metropolitan Opera House.

NEW YORK.—Mme. Louise Homer, the prima donna, replies to Mme. Olive Fremstad's assertion that it was impossible for an opera singer to be a good artist and a good mother at the same time, and that it was a shame for an opera singer to have a large family.

Mme. Homer's reply was not couched in words.

"There is my answer," she said, handing the reporter a photograph of her twin children taken with herself. "In any other form Mme. Fremstad's statement is too absurd to discuss."

The twins are now a year and a half old. Mme. Homer has two other children, a girl of 13 and a boy of 8. She has continued her operatic career ever since her marriage.

"They don't look starved or neglected, do they?" she asked, proudly exhibiting photographs of all four children, at her home, 220 West Eighty-ninth street, and they certainly did not.

Mme. Fremstad's statement provoked a reply also from Mme. Johanna Gadski, who with her husband and 12-year-old daughter lives in the Hotel St. Regis.

"Mme. Fremstad undoubtedly voices her own feelings, but she does not voice mine," said Mme. Gadski. "She is wrong for two reasons. Personally I find that children and motherhood are not a hindrance to art, and that what I lacked in emotion and realism as a singer before marriage I gained after I had experienced the emotions of a mother. Children, love and hope are the highest inspiration of art."

Mme. Gadski was of the opinion that Mme. Fremstad's remarks, if taken literally, would have the effect of discouraging young artists, that many girl students if they thought marriage should be denied them would abandon all ambition to become great singers.

One opera singer who would not be quoted remarked that Mme. Fremstad has no children, and therefore, perhaps, could not speak with authority on art in relation to motherhood.

Paterson, N. J., April 8.—Beauty is now a crime. Or it is going to be if Colonel Christopher Columbus Shelby, president of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, can have his way. Perhaps the Colonel thinks that he must discover something to live up to his two front nemeses, so he has discovered that beauty is a crime after it has been removed from the original package.

He announced his discovery yesterday morning in the police court when he accused two young women of being painted and powdered. There was no powder on the shoulder of the Colonel's coat and Recorder Carroll, who is a young man (the Colonel isn't), could find no traces of artificial loveliness on the countenances of the prisoners, so he dismissed the complaints.

The young women were Katherine Keating, nineteen, of No. 120 Silver street, and Katherine Vanderclock, same age, of No. 43 Butler street. They had a double defence. First, they hadn't powdered, but the Colonel's falling eyesight had mistaken natural peachiness for the kind that comes in a box, second, they were not children, so the Colonel had no jurisdiction.

But the Colonel is dead set against paint, except on fences and to get upon the crest of Paterson's reform wave he may have the constitution amended to provide that a woman is as young as she is painted.

As to Patterson's "Great White Way," he has got to be a dive color hereafter. Chief of Police Blinn is going to stop flirting on the streets at night. If a young snail tips his hat to a girl he does not know, or if a girl makes goading eyes at a handsome fellow, the policeman who catches them at it will cart them away in a patrol wagon.

The chief objects also to the style of dancing at some balls.

"It is only laughing set to music," said he. "It has got to stop. So has the night club riding which is popular just now. And whatever gambling there is must end, too. If a man wants to bet let him bet that I mean what I say, and he will win."

Fair is my Love when her fair golden locks
With the loose wind ye waving chance
To mark;
Fair, when the rose in her red cheeks appears;
Or in her eyes the fire of love does spark;
Fair, when her breast, like a rich-laden bark,
With precious merchandise she forth
doth lay;
Fair, when that cloud of plaid, which oft doth dark
Her gently light, with smiles she drives away;
But fairest she, when so she doth display
The gate, with pearls and rubies richly dight,
Through which her words so wise do make their way
To bear the message of her gentle sigh;
The rest be works of nature's wonder-
ment,
But this the work of heart's astonishment.

Proposed to Same Girl Six Times; Ready for Seventh

WORCESTER, Mass.—Arthur Burke, who has six times proposed to the same girl in Worcester, and been refused as many times, is confident he will finally win her and left last night for North Attleboro to propose for the seventh time. He is 31 years old and has love affairs that have covered a period of eighteen years. Mr. Burke bought clothes for a bridegroom and procured all other essentials, such as a duly attested certificate from the parish priest, declaring that his first wife died twenty-one years ago.

Mr. Burke has visited the woman of his choice regularly every seven years since he became a widower, and has popped the question every time.

"If I had I shall remain in Canada," Burke said, "but if my expectations be not fulfilled, as has happened so many times before, I will return to the United States and wait for better times."

Lines to an Indian Air

I arise from dreams of Thine
In the first sweet sleep of night,
When the winds are breaking low
And the stars are shining bright;
I arise from dreams of thee,
And a spirit in my feet
Thus led me—who knows how?
To thy chamber-window, sweet.

The wandering airs they faint
On the dark, silent stream—
The champak odors fall
Like sweet thoughts in a dream;
The nightingale's complaint
It dies upon thy heart,
As I must die on thine
Beloved as thou art!

O lift me from the grass!
I die, I faint, I fall!
Let thy love in kisses rain
On my lips and eyelids pale.
My neck is cold and white;
My heart beats loud and fast;
O press it close to thine again,
Where it will break at last.

Putting a Hot Iron on a Wife's Face Purely a Family Affair

NEW YORK.—Policeman Eugene Sullivan of the Church street station has made himself very unpopular in "The House of Trouble," at 17 West street, by interfering in what the tenants refer to as a "private family matter."

The "private family matter" involved Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gaines, who live on the top floor with their four children. When Sullivan broke into their apartment, Mrs. Gaines was applying a hot iron to Mr. Gaines' face and Mrs. Gaines was protesting in tones that could be heard half way across the North river.

Such "private family matters" are so common in "The House of Trouble" that Captain Tracey of the Church street station assigned Sullivan to the sole duty of watching it. On an average of every other night Sullivan has to go in and catch a patrol wagon and an ambulance.

Last night he got along with an ambulance for Mrs. Gaines, personally conducting Richard Gaines, truck driver, to the station house.

In some circles what was going on in the Gaines' quarters in "The House of Trouble" would be regarded as a tragedy, but not even Mrs. Gaines, when she returned from the hospital today, could turn from the hospital occurrence as anything but a little family matter. Both sides of her face had been seared with a hot iron and she had been stabbed in the right arm, punched in the left eye, kicked and mauled and altogether brutally abused.

Nevertheless, she was extremely indignant when a reporter asked her if she were going to appear in the Tombs Court against her husband.

"And why should I?" she asked hotly, adjusting her bandages and kicking behind her at the oldest Gaines boy, who was building out his fingers from his nose in the direction of the reporter.

"Appear against Dick?" she went on. "Well, I guess not. I've a good man yet sore on him for the way he used them hot irons, and I'll tell him when I see him that I'll stand for no more of that."

"Sure and he's the butt-in-cop," spoke up Mrs. Higgins, a neighbor, who, with five other neighbors, had followed the 18-foot upstairs.

"Yes, he is that," agreed Mrs. Gaines, "and he had the gall to ask me to go to court and ask the judge to send Dick to jail."

"Think of the nerve of him," cried Mrs. Higgins, shrilly, "and it only a private family matter between you and your own husband. Sure, Mrs. Gaines, when he comes galloping up the stairs with his club we told him 'twas only a private family matter, and we hung on to his coat-tails, thinking it better for you and Mr. Gaines to settle your own affairs between you."

"And he did he use a hot iron on you, Mrs. Gaines?" spoke up another neighbor.

"Yes, ironed me good," replied Mrs. Higgins, not without a note of pride in her voice.

"But he didn't mean n harm by it," interposed Mrs. Higgins. "He didn't think of what he was doing. I suspect, for he's a kind man generally."

"Gee, there's no kind r man alive," asserted Mrs. Gaines, wisely, "and we do get along fine together mostly."

"Tis there you speak the truth, Mrs. Gaines," said Mrs. Higgins. "And that's why I say it's a shame to have them fresh ops butt in on our private family matters."

"Tis so," said Mrs. G. ies.

"Tis so," echoed the other tenants of "The House of Trouble," whereupon the reporter bowed himself out and went away pondering on the relative meanings of "a private family matter."

Tunnel Cars Exclusively For Women Passengers

CARS FOR WOMEN. "Move Up in the Centre of the Car, Please!" —NEW YORK PRESS.

NEW YORK, April 8.—President McAdoo of the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad Company, not content with uprooting the Interborough's plans for extending the present subway, has tabbed it in by announcing that on his company's lines cars are reserved for the exclusive use of women.

Some weeks ago the Women's Municipal League asked the Public Service Commission to issue an order reserving the rear car on every subway train for women. President Shonks of the Interborough Company and his colleagues ridiculed the suggestion. They told the commission that any attempt to provide cars for women only would be a failure, and that it would lead to still further delays in the operation of the subway.

The representatives of the Women's Municipal League have, however, been so persistent in their demands that the commission has decided to give them an opportunity to be heard and for that reason have issued an order to the Interborough Company to make good its contentions by allowing cause within ten days why a peremptory order should not be issued for the attaching of a woman's car to every subway train.

Mr. McAdoo has voluntarily decided to have cars on the Hudson lines from which men will be barred. In the stations of the Hudson Company this notion has been posted: "The rear car on every train leaving Hoboken for New York between the hours of 7 A. M. and 9 A. M. and leaving Times Square, Sixth Avenue, New York, between the hours of 4:30 P. M. and 7 P. M. will be reserved for the exclusive use of women."

It will also be stated in the notice that porters will be stationed at the Hoboken and Twenty-third street stations to help women, but that they have been shopping in the streets and are carrying parcels in bounding and bounding. These porters, it is stated, will wear caps, and Mr. McAdoo in making the new railroad rule, said: "We believe that proper management demands this, as they arise should be regarded as a first step in making the subway a more comfortable place for women and children, and we hope that the result of our demonstration that the plan is not only practicable but that it is the desired purpose."

Gets a Bride in His New Socks

READING, Pa., April 8.—Charles J. Hall of this city today announced his engagement to Miss Annie Harrison of "Melham." About six months ago he bought a pair of socks in a department store. On removing the socks he found a piece of writing paper on which was written in ink: "Answer to Miss Annie Harrison, No. 614 Cleveland avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio."

Correspondence was opened and now they are engaged. Hall has never seen the girl, but expects to receive her photograph in a few weeks. They will be married the latter part of the year.

It will leave Reading in a few weeks for Cincinnati for the purpose of bringing back his future wife, who is only eighteen. She will spend the summer in this city.

Servant for 50 Years in One Home

NEW YORK.—If you happen to be down in the neighborhood of South River N. J., eight miles from New Brunswick, next Sunday afternoon and hear a great commotion from the direction of the old Price household there, and perhaps see some fireworks in the evening, don't be surprised.

It will be a celebration planned because on Sunday the Price family will have kept a servant exactly fifty years.

It was on April 4, 1859, that Mrs. Mary Grogan, a well-to-do, laughing Irish girl, came to the Price farm to hire out as a servant, leaving her three little children. She has stayed in the same place ever since.

On that day Mary agreed that her wages should be $100 a year. She has never asked for a raise.

Mrs. Abigail Price, who hired Mary fifty years ago, and is just about Mary's age, and the seven children, thirteen grandchildren and five great-grandchildren of Mrs. Price are going to give Mary the greatest time she has ever had in her life on Sunday.

Mary has had some remarkable qualities. The last that she asked for a day-out was twenty years ago.

Mrs. Vanderbilt Is Interesting Women In Art of Weaving

Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt is taking personal interest in the work of women in Baltimore, N. C., at various forms of weaving. The idea originated with Mrs. Vanderbilt, who saw an opportunity for the wives and daughters of many men employed on the Baltimore estate, and also of others employed near there, to engage in light and profitable home employment.

She brought two expert weavers from New York, and instruction was given to a class of fifty women and girls. The result has been surprising, as these fifty graduates have made their knowledge general. The chief work of the Baltimore weavers is the manufacture of blue and white counterpanes of an old-fashioned pattern, and so great has been the demand that it seems as if all other lines of weaving will be dropped for the counterpanes. Mrs. Vanderbilt has given Baltimore a new and growing industry, and she frankly admits taking pride in her achievement.

Five Chaparons on One Trip, Says Girl Back From Bermuda

NEW YORK.—The adventures of two girls who were eager to be chaperoned were told last night when Margaret and Helen O'Connell, daughters of John O'Connell of 251 West One Hundred and thirty street, arrived here from Bermuda.

The girls had one woman whom they liked, two men whom they feared, and a married woman whom they loathed. The young man who was to be chaperoned, had a few weeks ago on the pier and found that Mrs. C. T. Brainerd had a ted as chaperon, in his mind, Mrs. Brainerd failed to catch the because of a mix-up in sending a wire message.

"We surely have been well chaperoned, though," said Margaret O'Connell, "for as soon as our flight was discovered a woman from Rye City took us chaperon job without being asked. And she chaperoned us so hard that we had to dis-chaperon her. We really don't need a chaperon, but we thought Captain Mac-Kinnon should take the job."

Captain Mac-Kinnon did and held it until he had to go on the bridge. Then he resigned to Dr. Irwin, the purser, who suddenly became extremely busy and resigned to Miss Kelly, chief stewardess. She, too, became unusually busy and resigned to Mrs. Ardrie G. Norton of Boston, a passenger who was with her husband. Mrs. Norton remained with the girls until they arrived here.

So Many Buttons That It Left Girls Locked In

NEW YORK.—If Sadie had so many buttons on her dress as to be long to button it, and this thrilling tale of her life, she would not have interrupted the lives of Sadie and Marie, but 28 years old and employed by the York Spinning Company, 351 Jay street, Brooklyn, were both locked in the building after the other girls and had gone home at 6 o'clock.

They tried to get out, but couldn't. When they went for an hour and a half, while they buttoned on a window looking out from the third story on Jay street. Then Edward Graham saw them. He told Policeman Andrew Wheeler, who went next door and told the firemen, who got ladders, rescued the maidens and sent them home.

And it was all on account of the buttons.

Not without a note of pride in her voice.

"But he didn't mean n harm by it," interposed Mrs. Higgins. "He didn't think of what he was doing. I suspect, for he's a kind man generally."

"Gee, there's no kind r man alive," asserted Mrs. Gaines, wisely, "and we do get along fine together mostly."

"Tis there you speak the truth, Mrs. Gaines," said Mrs. Higgins. "And that's why I say it's a shame to have them fresh ops butt in on our private family matters."

"Tis so," said Mrs. G. ies.

"Tis so," echoed the other tenants of "The House of Trouble," whereupon the reporter bowed himself out and went away pondering on the relative meanings of "a private family matter."

REMORSE

Sad is the thought of sunniest days
Of love and rapture perished,
And shine through memory's tearful haze.
The eyes once fondly cherished
Reproachful is the ghost of toys
That charmed while life was wasted.
But saddest is the thought of joys
That never yet were tasted.

Sad is the vague and tender dream
Of dead love's lingering kisses.
Of crushed hearts haled by the gleam
Of unreturning kisses;
Deep mourns the soul in anguished pride
For the pitiless death that won them.
But the saddest wall is for lips that die
With the virgin dew upon them.

ATHLETES ENTER THE POLITICAL BATTLE

High School Football Players Fear New Trustees Want Rugby

WILL ORGANIZE CLUB TO WORK AGAINST MOVE

Boys Declare University of California Is Back of the Alleged Movement

BERKELEY, April 8.—With two club women of Berkeley in the race for school director, with a long list of other aspirants, the race is to become more interesting with the organization of a body of high school students who are to do all in their power to keep representatives of the University of California off the board. Ever since the game of Rugby football was instituted in the University of California and Stanford the authorities of these two colleges have attempted to persuade the preparatory schools to take it up and the students of Berkeley High school have heard it rumored that an attempt will be made in the coming election to place on the school board men who will further the interests of the University of California in this regard.

Will Put Up Fight

If a foundation can be found for this rumor, students of the high school have stated that the plans which they have made for a political organization will be perfect and the students some of whom are themselves entitled to votes will do all in their power to keep out of office those men whom they claim are nothing more than representatives of the University and placed in office to further the interests of that institution.

Brevard Sincial, captain-elect of the Berkeley High school football team for the coming season, said today: "I know that the students of the high school and indeed the faculty itself is greatly in favor of the game of American football in the high school. If we find that the University is in reality going to place in office men that will shove down our throats the bitter pill of playing Rugby, which the college students have had to swallow with a smile, we will put into operation the plans that we have made for a political organization and work with all the influence that we can command to keep these men out of office."

Command Votes

"There are over 1000 students in the school, nine-tenths of whom can command the vote of at least one Berkeley citizen. Their work can be done in the home and the influence that they can command will have to be reckoned with. We know that our fight will have to be fought before the election, our appeals will be of no avail; they never have been."

The American Football Association, which has been recently formed to protect the high school students in their stand for the old game will back up the local athletes in the fight that they will make and, in all probability, the political organization of the high school students will choose a number of candidates for office of school director under the new Berkeley charter, which will be announced in the near future.

Are Well Backed

The American Football Association is backed up, and was organized by, such men as "Bill" Field, the former Harvard coach and authority on the game of football, and Dave Anderson, coach of last season's Berkeley High school team and a former Dartmouth whirling dervish, and other lovers of the "old" game, who will lose all interest in high school football if the game of Rugby is instituted and have promised to bring all of their influence to bear to keep the American game in preparatory schools.

BLAZE IS CAUSED BY SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION

ALAMEDA, April 8.—An oil-soaked rag, left by a painter on a carpenter's bench, caused the destruction of Herman Rissman's new house at 2818 Central avenue last night, when spontaneous combustion took place and had it not been for Mrs. Hanson, who lives next door to Rissman's house, a fire would have resulted that would have destroyed the building.

The fire was put out with buckets of water.

Choir for Bach Musical Festival Includes Some Soloists of Note

MISS SYDNEY MILLER. — Bushnell Photo. MISS H. THOMPSON. — Lee Photo.

BERKELEY, April 8.—In the personnel of the Bach Choir, which is to sing at the annual festival to be given in the Hearst Greek Theatre Thursday afternoon, April 22, are a number of soloists of note, among whom are Miss Sydney Miller and Miss H. Thompson.

The choir is composed of 125 voices, including many well-known musical soloists and some of the best vocalists in the city. The soloists include Miss Sydney Miller, Miss H. Thompson, and others. The choir will sing at the festival, which is one of the most important musical events of the year in Berkeley.

Miss Sydney Miller is a soprano and Miss H. Thompson is a mezzo-soprano. They are both well-known soloists and will sing at the festival. The choir is directed by Dr. J. L. Talbot.

PREFERS DEATH TO LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Julia Carey, Despondent, Swallows Dose of Acid and Dies

BERKELEY, April 8.—Despondent from threatened illness and breakdown Mrs. Julia Carey successfully sought death last afternoon by drinking a vial of oxalic acid. Her unconscious body was found lying on a lounge in the parlor of the family home 1530 Fairview street by William Carey, the husband, when he returned from his work as a machinist last night. Carey at first thought his wife had fainted but the empty poison vial in her hand told the tale.

Carey at once summoned Dr. M. M. Rowley but the woman was dead when the physician arrived. Mrs. Carey was last seen alive at 1 o'clock in the afternoon by one of her neighbors with whom she discussed some trivial matters over the front gate. She was then apparently in good spirits. Mrs. Carey was fifty-five years of age. She had lived in Berkeley five years and of late had been troubled with illness. It was from bleeding over the possibility of becoming a confirmed invalid that her husband believed the rash act was done. The body was removed to the Berkeley morgue and an inquest will be held Sunday.

PLAN PLEASURE TRIP TO PARKS

Alameda Chamber of Commerce to Start First of a Series May 15

ALAMEDA, April 8.—The Alameda Chamber of Commerce is co-operating with the school department in arranging for a special event to be held at Lincoln Park on May 15. Communications have been received from Professor Mehlhorn, physical director of the Olympic Club, who has a large class in physical culture in the Crocker grammar school and from Joseph O'Connor, president of the Board of Education of San Francisco, who has given a reception to the pupils of the Crocker grammar school on that date. It is planned that the Alameda schools entertain their visitors with a luncheon and games and in turn the classes of their training. This event is to be the first of a series of similar events by the Chamber of Commerce. If the children are pleased with these events the board will be formed and a trip to the holidays of both parents and children will be made to Alameda.

CHALLENGES SPEAKER TO PROVE ALLEGED SLANDER

Editor TRIBUNE

In your issue of the 7th inst. reference is made to a slanderous statement concerning myself alleged to have been made from a public platform "at a recent Eastern" meeting. I desire to contact the irresponsible person who made this statement and challenge him to prove the truth of his charges. If he is unable to do so, I will sue him for libel. I am, Sir, very respectfully,

BURGLARS FRIGHTENED AWAY BY PATROLMEN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Burglars choosing Miss on street as their field for operations last night met with failure in two of the places they attempted to burglarize.
The first place the jewelry store of the Steffer Brothers at 135 Mission street, was almost stolen when Patrolman Callaghan, and Special Officer Silver have in sight and drove chase to the crook.
The saloon of the Sophie Brothers at 2296 Mission street beats a badly mutilated door this morning as the result of the efforts of thieves to effect an entrance.
In the latter case it was thought that a policeman patrolling his beat frightened away the thieves.

ALLEGED JAILBREAKERS APPEAR IN COURT

Three alleged jailbreakers who were said to have escaped from the city jail several months ago appeared before Superior Judge Brown yesterday for arraignment.
They were William Wilson who pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for May 5. He will be defended by Attorney P. M. Walsh.
The others were Homer Stoleup and Claude K. Brownbridge who pleaded guilty and were sentenced to April 15 before entering their pleas.
Judge Brown appointed Attorney J. N. Hagar to represent the two and they will probably be tried together. The charge is the breaking and destroying of public jail property.

DISGRACED CAVALRYMAN'S WIFE KILLS HERSELF

NEW YORK, April 8.—Mrs. Margaret Cady, the wife of an ex-cavalryman, committed suicide by hanging herself in her room in the Hotel New York last night. She was 35 years of age and was a native of New York. Her husband, Herbert Cady, was a former member of the 11th Cavalry and was discharged from the service in 1905. She was found hanging from a beam in her room. The police are investigating the case.

CHAMPION OF JERSEY BUTTER COWS IS DEAD

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 8.—Pedro Estrella, the champion Jersey butter cow of the world, is dead. She died at her home, the Missouri Agricultural College, at Columbia, last night. In twelve months she produced 712 pounds of butter, fully 100 pounds more than her nearest competitor. The University statisticians figured that the income from Pedro Estrella for one year would have kept an average student in the University of Missouri for a like term. If you have backache and urinary troubles you should take Foley's Kidney Pills. They will act properly, as a serious kidney trouble may develop. Sold at Wehner's Drug Store.
